

Webinar on NALD library, library services set for May 8, 2013

The National Adult Literacy Database (NALD) will host a webinar on its digital library Wednesday, May 8, 2013, from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. Atlantic time.

Scheduled to last approximately an hour, the presentation will be given by NALD acquisitions manager Lorette Melanson. She will begin by giving an overview of the online library, which includes Learning materials and Research materials.

The webinar will cover different search options such as free searching, advanced searches and browsing. Also included will be how to sort the results of a search, information on recent additions, NALD's priority categories and a variety of searching tips.

Agenda includes:

- Brief overview of NALD and its library
- Library collections
- Number of documents housed
- Search capabilities
- Copyright information
- Advanced search
- Sorting documents after a search
- Browse feature including Browse by keyword
- Interactive comments
- How documents make it to the library
- Top 20 Downloads

Lorette will provide up-to-date information on the NALD library and will answer frequently asked questions.
